

Social Networking Newbie

Dear Tim:

I can't say that I ever thought I would, but I've really gotten into this whole social networking phenomenon. I've got a Facebook page to stay in touch with family and friends, a LinkedIn profile to help me make business contacts and a Twitter page to share my corny observations about life to anyone who's interested. I'll admit it's a little time consuming, but so far it's been kind of fun. So, can I add you as a Friend?

-Wired on Windemere

Dear Wired:

Of course you can add me as a Friend, but you'll have to tell me how exactly I do that. You see, I've only just been introduced to the social networking thing, and I'm not exactly a quick study when it comes to new technologies. We've got Facebook and Twitter pages for the market now, so you can follow us and check out our weekly specials, events and new offerings. But rest assured I had nothing to do with setting them up. I'm still more of a twit than a Twitterer at this point.

Dear Tim:

I understand that the emerald ash borer has finally made its way to UA. I've been expecting these hungry little tree killers to show up sooner or later. Now that they have, I'm wondering how my neighborhood's going to look without shade.

-Treed Off on Trentwood

Dear Treed Off:

I'm with you. And while I have full confidence in our community leaders to do everything they can to limit the damage, no one else has been able to stop these pesky pests so far, so I'm thinking they're going to be feasting here for a while. Don't let that stop you from enjoying one of UA's best physical features, though. Fire up the grill. Eat out on the patio. We've got all the grilling meats and tasty summer sides you can imagine. And enjoy the ash trees while they're still here. I say if you can't beat 'em, join 'em.
