

Wrapped Up In Reality

Dear Tim:

I tend to get wrapped up in reality TV. Whether it's The Bachelor, the Real Housewives or even The Biggest Loser, I get taken in by the personal stories and the drama and completely lose site of the fact that most of this "reality" is actually scripted. Am I just a sucker or do you think there's a bigger problem I need to explore?

-Fished In On Fishinger

DEAR
TIM

Dear Fished:

I don't think you have a problem at all. I get sucked in by these supposed realities as well. But you have to do like I do. Think of these fame-seeking goofballs like your extended family. Their ridiculous backstories are fun to talk about with your friends, but you can't take them too seriously. Otherwise you'd never get through Thanksgiving. Speaking of Thanksgiving, it's never too early to order your farm-fresh Bowman & Landes turkey for the fall feast. James is already taking orders at the meat counter in the back.

Dear Tim is presented as a public service by Tim Huffman, owner of Huffman's Market. Write to him in care of Huffman's Market, 2140 Tremont Center, Upper Arlington, Ohio, 43221, stop by and say hi, or visit www.huffmansmarket.com.