

No Free Lunch

Dear Tim:

Remember when you used to be able to get some friendly advice before you had to buy something? Now everything requires a paid “consultation” first. I guess there really is no such thing as a free lunch anymore, huh?

-Overpaying on OverdaleDear Overpaying:

There may not be a free lunch anymore, but there's still a free breakfast. At least on Saturday, April 11. That's when the merchants here at Tremont Center will be hosting our annual April Fool's Breakfast. We've been serving this hardy spring breakfast to the community for 62 years, and we've never charged a red cent for any bit of it. It may not be very common anymore, but it still seems like it's welcomed and appreciated. Not to mention delicious. So please join us on Saturday from 8:00-11:00 AM, and bring your family, friends and neighbors. No extra charge.
