

Riled About Road Work

Dear Tim:

I was hoping to stop in and shop for a few must-haves last week, but they have Tremont Road so chopped up and rerouted I literally couldn't find a way to get into your parking lot. Are they trying to keep your customers away?

-Lost on Tremont

Dear Lost:

You'd think so, wouldn't you? Actually they're trying to get the work in front of the school done before the fall, I think, which is an admirable goal. But it's costing those of us located in the construction zone a lot in the process. I'm sure it will be great when it's done, but in the meantime, consider using Redding Road to find us. There are entrances and exits open both north and southbound, and you won't have to guess which way Tremont is flowing at the moment. It ain't perfect, but hopefully it will get you here. And that would be great. Because we'd hate to lose you.
